

I subscribe to and enjoy XM Radio.
The satellite radio industry should be able to develop its business model and market the services it provides without undue restriction.

Its customers can elect to pay or not pay the subscription fees based on the content and price; there is no reason that satellite radio should be barred from offering content that is desirable.

I request that the NAB petition 04-160 be rejected.

Respectfully,

John L. Eggers